EQ Opens Environmental Services Center in Las Vegas

Wayne, Mich. – EQ – The Environmental Quality Company is proud to announce that it has opened an environmental services center in Las Vegas, Nevada. With the addition of the Las Vegas facility, EQ now operates twenty-seven recycling, treatment, disposal and service facilities throughout the United States, and manages an extensive line of remediation, industrial cleaning, emergency response and total waste management services nationwide.

“The addition of the Las Vegas service center will add to the successful growth that we have experienced as a company,” stated Tom Schuck, Executive Vice President of EQ.

“Incorporating EQ Las Vegas into our network will broaden our capacity to provide quality environmental services to our customers, especially in the Western U.S.”

EQ Las Vegas will provide the following services:

- Hazardous and non-hazardous waste transportation and disposal.
- Industrial cleaning and maintenance services.
- Site remediation services, including turnkey project management of contaminated sites.
- Lab packing and small quantity chemical management services.
